

Biomed@TAU
Microbes in Health & Disease

Symposium on Immunity at the Human Maternofetal Interface

Thursday, January 25, 2018

9:30-14:00

Tel Aviv University
Sackler School of Medicine, Room 100

9:30 Coffee

10:00 Introduction

10:10-11:00 Keynote Speaker
Arnaud Marchant, Université Libre de Bruxelles
Transfer of maternal immunity and programming of the newborn immune system

11:00-11:30
Dana Wolf, Hadassah Medical Center
Placental biology and transfer of maternal immunity: impact on transmission and pathogenesis of congenital viral infections

11:30-12:00

Ofer Mandelboim, HUJI
Human Natural Killer cells remember first pregnancy and better respond in subsequent pregnancies

12:00-12:45 Lunch

12:45-13:15

Dani Cohen, TAU
How to confer immunity against shigellosis (bacillary dysentery) early in life

13:15- 13:45

Erez Rechavi (Raz Somech lab), TAU and Sheba
Immune development during fetal life and beyond, in health and disease

13:45- 13:55 Concluding remarks